

Take Notice 2014-20

20
service
evaluations delivered

Busting myths about people experiencing homelessness:

- through local & national media

- with schools

- with youth groups

- through community talks

- at Westminster & The Senedd

24

Workshops/presentations

at seminars and conferences delivered across Wales

Resources produced

2

Educational films

7

Digital stories of homelessness experiences

5

Good practice guides

46 participating members

617 days of volunteering given to the project

"...your own experience can be the springboard for positive change"

"I am involved in Take Notice because it gives me the opportunity to give back to the community that has helped me and my husband when we needed help the most".

"It's been very rewarding to be able to take our point of view to other people, it's made me more confident in stepping forward to make a contribution. And that's what it's all about really – realising that your own experience can be the springboard for positive change."

Worked in partnership with

"...a project like Take Notice is so valuable."

"I certainly cannot speak highly enough of the value they provide to ourselves and other LA's in service delivery and development."

"Thanks again to the team for their views and the time & consideration they gave the service for the mystery shopper exercise. It strongly supported the need for investment in the office which I think will have a big impact on clients accessing the service in the future."

"As financial pressures increase, we have to be more creative in finding ways to deliver services, to think outside the box and make the most of the resources we've got. That's why a project like Take Notice is so valuable."

"It's clear that the project has worked to influence services across Wales by ensuring that the voice of people who have used services is heard. It has certainly influenced delegates at our events who have said that they will think differently as a result of Take Notice speakers."